

The Institute of Comparative Culture at Sophia University invites you to

Crises in the Asia-Pacific:

A workshop of presentations and discussion with “The Asia-Pacific Journal – Japan Focus”

May 22, 2:00p.m. – 6:00 p.m.

Sophia University, Yotsuya Campus, Bldg. 10, room 301

The program will include workshops on Japan in comparative perspective:

- Gender Equality and Labor in Japan
- Media Under Abe
- Geopolitics of the Asia-Pacific Roundtable: China, Japan, Korea, U.S.
- Discussion by workshop participants on their research and journal priorities, special issues, and the future of the journal.

Participants include Machiko Osawa, Huiyan Fu, Phoebe Holdgruen, David McNeill, Justin McCurry, Jeff Kingston, David H. Slater, Gavan McCormack, Mark Selden

It would be helpful in drawing up the plan for the afternoon to know in advance of anyone who would like to contribute to the Geopolitics roundtable in particular and on roughly what topic.

Information will be updated at the Asia-Pacific Journal homepage apjff.org/

.....
Dinner follows from 6:30 at Xue Mei Hua Restaurant (雪梅花 四谷 <https://gurunavi.com/en/g822667/rst/>)

The dinner is a set course for 4,800 yen per person, including alcohol.

Payment at the conference in cash.

We need a dinner headcount; so please RSVP here: japanfocusdinner@gmail.com

.....
If you have any questions, please contact David Slater (dslater@gmail.com)

David H. Slater, Ph.D.

Director of the Institute of Comparative Culture

Professor of Cultural Anthropology

Faculty of Liberal Arts, Graduate Program in Japanese Studies

Sophia University, Tokyo